Your pension - an overview

Your pension with The People's Pension began on:

21/04/2021

The value of your pension pot as at 27/09/2025 is:

£6,601.55

As your pension contributions are invested in unitised funds, the value of your pension is not guaranteed and could go down as well as up.

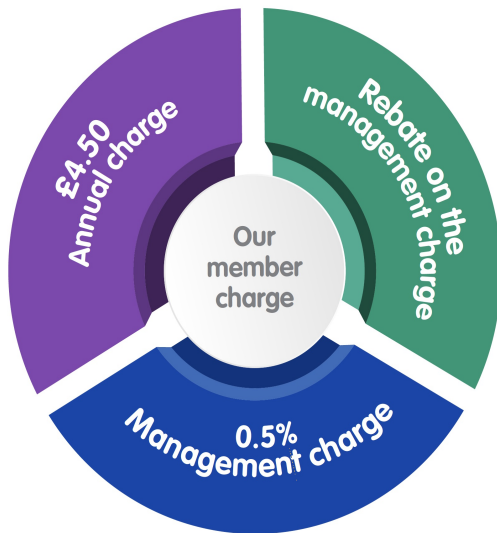

- The People's Pension is a defined contribution, multi-employer occupational pension scheme.
- The scheme is registered with HM Revenue & Customs (HMRC). The Pension Scheme Tax Reference (PSTR) number is 00785199RQ.
- There are:
 - no exit fees or penalties
 - no additional life cover with your pension
 - no guarantees on your pension
 - no bid offer/spread
 - no protected tax-free cash, therefore, this is set at 25% of the fund
 - no waiver of premium benefit
 - no adviser charging.
- The People's Pension understands there isn't pension sharing or earmarking and there isn't a bankruptcy order.

How your money is looked after

The People's Pension is governed by an independent corporate trustee, The People's Pension Trustee Ltd, which has responsibility for running the scheme and for looking after all the pots of money held by the scheme. The scheme is set up under a trust structure - this is intended to keep the scheme's assets separate from your employer and so provides you with a level of security. The trustee ensures that The People's Pension is run in the best interests of its members and other beneficiaries, and in accordance with the Rules of the Scheme and the law. It'll also make sure that the investment options are appropriate, and the administration is first class.

Charges on your pension savings

The People's Pension's charging structure, known as the annual management charge (AMC), is made up of 3 elements:

1. The annual charge

If you've been with The People's Pension long enough, we'll deduct the annual charge from your pension pot during the scheme year.

2. The management charge

You'll pay a 0.5% management charge each year. That's just 50 pence a year for every £100 you have in your pension pot. The management charge covers the cost of investing your pension savings and running The People's Pension.

3. What you get back as a rebate

To help you save more, typically you'll get a rebate on your management charge.

This all happens automatically and you'll be able to see the rebate in your Online Account and annual statement. If you take your money out, future rebates will be worked out on the value of any remaining savings. To qualify for a rebate, your money must be invested by the first day of a rebate period. So, when you first join, you won't receive a rebate at the end of the first rebate period.

Your rebate might look like the example below. For the part of your savings:

- up to £3,000 no rebate is given
- over £3,000 and up to £10,000 we give back 0.1%*
- over £10,000 and up to £25,000 we give back 0.2%
- over £25,000 and up to £50,000 we give back 0.25%
- over £50,000 we give back 0.3%.

For more information, visit www.thepeoplespension.co.uk/charge

To find out exactly how much you're charged, please log into your Online Account at www.thepeoplespension.co.uk/viewaccount and go to 'Manage my pension', followed by 'Charges'.

*Minimum rebate is 1 pence

Payments into your pension pot

You are currently enrolled with:

DASA UMBRELLA LIMITED Umbrella weekly.

Included with this summary is a list of your transactions (up to 3 pages), but you can view a full list of these in your Online Account.

The pension input period is aligned to the tax year (6 April to 5 April).

Minimum pension contributions

Under auto-enrolment, the minimum amount that your employer must pay into your pension is 3% of your qualifying earnings. The total minimum contribution amount is 8% - your contributions make up the difference between what your employer contributes, and the total minimum.

Visit www.thepeoplespension.co.uk/minimum-contributions to read more about this.

Tax relief on your pension contributions

The People's Pension is a tax-registered pension scheme. To help you save for your retirement, the government may provide tax relief on the contributions you pay into your pension pot.

Visit www.thepeoplespension.co.uk/tax-relief-pension to read about how tax relief is added to your contributions.

Your employer takes contributions from your gross pay, before tax is deducted. This means you would normally get full tax relief on your own pension contributions straightaway. However, if your earnings are below the basic tax threshold you should contact your payroll department.

If you make any additional pension contributions directly into your pension (and not through your employer), The People's Pension will, subject to meeting HMRC regulations, claim tax relief from the government at the basic 20% rate of tax.

This is added to your pension pot once payment is received from HMRC. If you pay more than the basic rate of tax, you can claim the extra tax relief by speaking to HMRC or through your tax return. You can set up additional contributions through Direct Debit by following the instructions found on www.thepeoplespension.co.uk/make-personal-payments

How your money is invested

The profile your pension pot is invested in is 15 Year Balanced.
Visit www.peoplespartnership.co.uk/about-us/who-we-are to view past and current unit prices.

The statement(s) included with this review show a breakdown of which funds you're invested in, along with the number of units and their price in each fund.

Changing where your money is invested

You can change how your money is invested by choosing from one of our investment profiles or by self-selecting from the funds that we offer. Most members when they join the scheme will have their funds automatically invested into our 'balanced' investment profile, where their money is placed into the Global Investments (up to 85% shares) Fund.

Our investment profiles bring together groups of investments with different levels of risk. There are 3 to choose from:

- balanced
- cautious
- adventurous

Or you can self-select into any combination of the below funds, except for the Shariah Fund, where you're unable to invest anything other than 100% of your pension savings into.

The funds available to invest in are:

Fund	SEDOL	ISIN	Citicode
Global Investments (up to 60% shares)	BYY2NQ6	GB00BYY2NQ66	KOVV
Global Investments (up to 85% shares)	BYY2NM2	GB00BYY2NM29	KOVU

As you approach retirement...

If you're invested in one of The People's Pension's investment profiles, The People's Pension gradually starts to switch the investment of your savings 15 years before your selected retirement age. This is to more secure/lower risk investments (known as a 'glidepath' - you can visit www.thepeoplespension.co.uk/your-retirement-options to read more about this). It aims to limit any falls in the value of your pension savings just before you retire, but could also result in lower growth.

If you choose to self-select, this option doesn't include a glidepath. You'll be responsible for managing how much you invest in each of your selected funds. You may want to consider reviewing both your fund selection and your attitude to investment risk regularly.

Your money at retirement

Your selected retirement age is 66.

You can change this age in your Online Account with The People's Pension. Visit www.thepeoplespension.co.uk/minimum-pension-age-change to find out the earliest age you can access your pension savings.

I'm not able to provide a projection of how much your money may be worth as you've selected to take your savings, within the next 12 months.

Accessing your pension savings

Visit www.thepeoplespension.co.uk/minimum-pension-age-change to find out the earliest age you can access your pension savings. You don't have to stop working to take your pension pot.

You can access your pension savings at any age on medical grounds if you're unable to continue your usual occupation, and as a result you've stopped working. If you're suffering from serious ill health (with a life expectancy of less than 12 months), it may be possible for you to receive all the savings in your pension pot tax free as a serious ill-health lump sum.

Ways you can take your money

The options available to you with The People's Pension depend on how much is in your pension pot when you choose to access it.

If your pension pot is worth £10,000 or less when you access it, you may be able to take your money all in one go as a 'small pot lump sum'.

With occupational pension pots (like The People's Pension), you can take as many small pot lump sums as you want. The first 25% is usually tax free, with the other 75% being subject to tax. Depending on the size of your pot and your tax status, parts of it may be subject to higher rates of tax.

Before you're able to take your money, all contributions into your pension pot must have stopped. You must also meet all HMRC's rules about when a small pot lump sum can be taken.

If your pension pot is worth more than £10,000 when you access it, you can either take your money as a lump sum, or take your money a bit at a time in one of two ways.

1. The first option is through 'flexi access drawdown' (FAD). You take your tax-free cash up front (usually up to 25%) either a bit at a time or in one lump sum. For every £1 you take as tax-free cash, £3 will be moved into a flexi-access drawdown account. Then each time you take money out of the flexi-access drawdown account, you may pay tax on the full amount of each lump sum. It's added to your taxable income and, depending on your tax status, parts of it may be liable for higher rates of tax.
2. The second option is through an 'uncrystallised funds pension lump sum' (UFPLS). This involves spreading your tax-free cash across all withdrawals. Each time you take money from your pension pot, 25% of it is tax free. The other 75% is added to your taxable income. Depending on your tax status, parts of it may be liable for higher rates of tax.

People's Partnership doesn't offer an option to purchase an annuity, which offers a guaranteed income, therefore there are no guarantees to the amount you may be able to take as income from your savings. But you can use your money to buy an annuity, or to access any of the other options listed above, from another provider.

There are lots of things you should consider before deciding on when and how to access your pension savings. You can read more about these considerations and your retirement options with The People's Pension at www.thepeoplespension.co.uk/your-retirement-options, 'Your options at retirement' guide.

How to access your money

All options can be handled through your Online Account. Once you're logged in, you can click the 'Claim' button on the homepage to start your online claim. It's then quick and easy to access your pension savings.

What happens if you die before you access your pension savings?

If you were to die before you took your pension savings, the value of your pension savings will be paid as a lump sum to one (or more) of your beneficiaries. The lump sum is normally tax free.

You can nominate anybody including family, friends, a charity or other organisation. There's no limit to the number of people or organisations you can nominate, you just need to make sure your nominations add up to 100%. You can tell the Trustee who you'd like to be considered as your beneficiary quickly and easily online through your Online Account with The People's Pension.

It's important to tell us your beneficiaries and keep them up to date to help the Trustee in settling any claim as soon as possible.

You've not selected any beneficiaries for our trustee to consider.

You can see a full breakdown in your Online Account.

Combine your pensions

There's no charge from The People's Pension for transfers in or out of your account.

You could combine most previous pensions into the one you have with The People's Pension. Do this quickly and easily, with no charge from The People's Pension by visiting your Online Account.

The rate of the rebate on your management charge rises as your savings grow. You can boost your savings by transferring in any other pension pots you have. When you transfer in from another scheme, you may not be eligible to receive a rebate on the money transferred in until the next rebate period.

The People's Pension is part of the Origo Transfers Service. If your other pension scheme is too, funds can be transferred to or from a pension provider more quickly using this electronic service.

You'll need:

- ✓ the name of your previous pension provider
- ✓ the policy number for the pension you want to transfer
- ✓ the approximate value of your other pensions.

Knowing this up front will help speed things up.

Transfer to another provider

The value of your pension savings on the date of transfer is also the transfer value.

You're only able to transfer your whole pot to another provider - partial transfers aren't allowed.

For transfers of pots over £10,500, you'll need to provide proof of identity and address to The People's Pension.

You'll need The People's Pension account number for the pension you want to transfer - you'll find this in your Online Account.

This needs to be started by the pension scheme you're transferring to, so you should speak to them first to get this started.

This illustration shows, in today's prices, the pension that could be payable when you retire. This means we have allowed for future inflation to give you an indication of how much you would get if it were payable today.

If your investment, after yearly inflation, grows each year at:

for the investment in the B&CE GI (up to 85% shares) Fund	3.5%

And buy a smaller yearly taxable pension worth: £516.00

Assumptions

The figures illustrated show what you might get if you start taking your pension at your chosen retirement date.

We have made the following assumptions:

- Any contributions being received via your employer will continue to be paid in at the current rate until your selected retirement age and will be increased in line with inflation.
The contribution amount is based on an average of the contributions received in the last year.
- Any current personal contributions will continue to be paid in at the current rate until your selected retirement age and will be increased in line with inflation.
- You will buy a pension that will stay the same amount from the time you draw it.
- You will buy a pension that will continue to be paid for at least 5 years from when we start to pay it, even if you die before the 5 years are up.
- You will buy a pension that will not provide a pension for your partner should you die.
- Where contributions are made from your net pay we will add basic tax relief at 20%
- Where contributions are made from your gross pay they will already include tax relief.
- You may pay an annual charge which is not taken from pots below £104.50 when the charge is calculated.
- Your management charge is 0.5%.
- You may receive a rebate on the management charge. The rebate level depends on how much is in your pension pot.

What are the charges?

With The People's Pension, you pay an annual management charge made up of 3 elements – an annual charge, an ongoing management charge of 0.5% (50p for every £100 saved) and a rebate on the management charge. The rebate level depends on how much is in your pension pot. When you take money out, we'll work out future rebates on the value of your remaining savings.

- With The People's Pension, you pay an annual management charge made up of 3 elements - an annual charge, an ongoing management charge of 0.5% (50p for every £100 saved) and a rebate on the management charge. The management charge is reflected in the price of units. The rebate level depends on how much is in your pension pot. When you take money out, we'll work out future rebates on the value of your remaining savings. For more information, visit www.thepeoplespension.co.uk/charge

To find out exactly how much you're charged, please log into your Online Account at www.thepeoplespension.co.uk/viewaccount and go to 'Manage my pension', followed by 'Charges'.

From May 2018 we changed the way we add tax relief to your pension pot. Your tax relief is shown as separate transactions to your own contributions, based on the date on which we received it from HM Revenue & Customs.
